Together we make a difference!

February 2026

A Message from Huib Quist - Director of Nursing

Brucelea Haven is committed to advancing evidence-based practices and improving the quality of care for our residents. In an effort to achieve this goal, we have partnered with the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario (RNAO) to improve many of the processes in the home through the Clinical Pathways Program. We anticipate significant benefits to both the staff and Residents we serve.

This is part of a three-year journey as we work through the various Clinical Pathways. In some cases, there may be small changes to the services we provide, some other areas will see more significant adjustments as we move to improve the application of evidence-based best practice guidelines. The first three areas that we will be focusing on is Admission, Delerium, and Resident and Family Centered Care. This project looks forward to collaborating across our disciplines to foster a culture of excellence and continuous improvement.

Deer Hunting

In the New Year when we take our Christmas decorations down, one of our favourite activities to do before we put those trees away is 'Deer Hunting'. Residents enjoyed a playful and engaging activity using Nerf guns to safely mimic a deer hunting experience, sparking laughter, movement, and meaningful reminiscence. This activity offered a fun way to connect with past hobbies and traditions, especially for residents who once enjoyed hunting or spending time outdoors. It encouraged gentle physical activity, hand-eye coordination, and friendly social interaction, while also creating opportunities for storytelling and shared memories. Most importantly, it honored residents' life experiences in a lighthearted, safe, and person-centred way that brought joy and a sense of familiarity to the day.

Paint by Number

Participating in painting activities offers seniors in long-term care a meaningful way to express themselves while supporting overall wellbeing. Painting encourages creativity and self-expression, which can boost mood, reduce stress, and foster a sense of accomplishment. It also helps maintain fine motor skills, hand-eye coordination, and cognitive engagement, while providing opportunities for social connection and conversation. Most importantly, painting allows residents to focus on their abilities rather than limitations, promoting confidence, joy, and a continued sense of purpose.

Welcome Jesse - Social Service Worker Student

Hello! My name is Jesse! I am a Social Service Worker student from Northern College. I chose this program because I am interested in supporting people through advocacy, communication, and person-centred care! During my placement at Brucelea Haven, I hope to build my SSW skills, learn how to support residents in meaningful ways, and gain experience working as part of a team. I am grateful to my preceptors for their guidance and support during this placement. Fun Fact about me, I own a Mainecoon cat named Toby!"

Welcome Sara - Registered Nursing Student

Hi! My name is Sara; I am a registered nursing student at Georgian College in Owen Sound. I have always had a passion for helping others, and I decided to pursue the RN program after completing a co-op at the Walkerton Hospital. I really enjoyed my learning experience as nursing offers a balance between critical thinking and meaningful human connection. Through my clinical placement at Brucelea Haven, I hope to strengthen my assessment skills and build upon therapeutic relationships. Thank you so much to the Brucelea Haven team for welcoming me and supporting my learning journey.
